Improving Services For Kids And Families In Malvern

McGuinty Government Investing In New Infrastructure

NEWS

August 12, 2011

Children, youth and families in the Malvern area of east Toronto will benefit from the government's investment in a new multi-purpose resource centre that will help make services more accessible and better coordinated.

The new facility – to be built at Sewells Road and Littles Road on vacant government land - will enable Malvern Family Resource Centre to consolidate its five current locations under one roof to meet the growing and changing needs of families in the area.

The province will also contribute $800,000 in 2012-13 towards construction of the new building. This investment is part of the government's Open Ontario Plan to stimulate economic growth, help vulnerable Ontarians and build strong communities.
